INTRODUCTION.

The FOURTEENTH REGIMENT MASSACHUSETTS VOLUNTEERS (Heavy Artillery) was raised exclusively in the County of Essex, and is known at home as the "ESSEX COUNTY REGIMENT;" and was originally formed of ten companies, from Lawrence, Haverhill, Lynn, Methuen, Andover, Amesbury, Ipswich, Danvers and Marblehead.

At the commencement of the present contest, after the departure of the three months State militia, numerous companies were raised in Essex County, but no regimental organization was effected of the various companies until about the first of June last, when the following ten companies were designated to form another Massachusetts Volunteer Regiment:

- Co. D, of Haverhill, Capt. HENRY JACKSON HOWE.
- City Guards, of Lawrence, Capt. FRANK A. ROLFE.
- Scott Greys, of Lawrence, Capt. SAMUEL LANGMAID.
- Mechanic Phalanx, of Lynn, Capt. ALONZO G. DRAPER.
- Light Infantry, of Methuen, Capt. LEVERETT BRADLEY.
- Light Infantry, of So. Andover, Capt. HORACE HOLT.
- Mechanic Greys, of Amesbury, Capt. JOS. W. SARGENT.
- Putnam Guards, of Danvers, Capt. ARTHUR A. PUTNAM.
- Hurd Guards, of Ipswich, Capt. JOHN HOBBS.
- Mugford Guards, of Marblehead, Capt. BENJ. DAY.

On the 21st day of June, the commanders of the companies designated to form this regiment, were ordered to report with their commands to Gen. Andrews, at Fort Warren, Boston Harbor, as soon as the 24th of June; and on Monday, June 24th, 1862, the regiment was brought together for the first time, on Boston Common. The companies then numbered seventy-nine men each, and were dressed in ten different styles of uniform, while not one half of the companies had muskets. The companies were designated by the following initial letters, and officered as follows:

Co. A—Capt. JOHN HOBBS; Lieuts. Nathaniel Shatswell, Robert Southgate, Milton B. Shattuck, Nathaniel Johnson.

Co. B—Capt. LEVERETT BRADLEY; Lieuts. Jeremy B. Wardwell, Christopher S. Heath, Abram Kimball, Luther Silloway.

Co. D—Capt. HENRY J. HOWE; Lieuts. James M. Nichols, Thomas Newton, John L. Hoyt.

Co. E—Capt. JOSEPH W. SARGENT; Lieuts. William F. Martins, Benjamin C. Atkinson, Freeman Langmaid, Oscar Carleton.

Co. F—Capt. SAMUEL LANGMAID; Lieuts. Joseph W. Kimball, Geo. S. Follansbee, Leander Bachelder, Robert Henderson.

Co. G—Capt. BENJAMIN DAY; Lieuts. Charles P. Noyce, Benjamin F. Martin, Robert Burridge, Joseph Burnham.

Co. H—Capt. HORACE HOLT; Lieuts. Charles F. Poor, Moses W. Clement, Orin L. Farnham.

Co. I—Capt. ARTHUR A. PUTNAM; Lieuts. Charles H. Adams, William J. Roome, Elbridge Guilford, William Kenney.

Co. K—Capt. FRANK A. ROLFE; Lieuts. William Preston, Albert A. Davis, Hatherly A. Stoddard, Frank Davis.

On the same day the regiment was placed within the granite walls of Fort Warren, where they were to be recruited to the new army standard of one hundred and one men to each company, fully organized, drilled, armed and equipped for a campaign. In a few days the appointments of Field and Staff Officers was completed, as follows:

Colonel—WILLIAM B. GREENE, of Paris, France.

Lieut. Colonel—SAMUEL C. OLIVER, of Salem.

Major—LEVI P. WRIGHT, of Lawrence.

Surgeon—DAVID DANA, of Lawrence.

Asst. Surgeon—SAM K. TOWLE, of Haverhill.

Chaplain—STEPHEN BARKER, of Andover.

Adjutant—CHARLES S. SIMMONS, of Boston.

Quartermaster—ANDREW WASHBURN, of Boston.

Sergeant Major—AMOS HENFIELD, of Salem.

Quartermaster Sergeant—WILLIAM C. GLASS, of Boston.

Commissary Sergeant—ARTHUR L. DREW, of Haverhill.

Hospital Steward—J. L. PILLSBURY, of Lawrence.

On the 5th day of July, the regiment was mustered into the United States service for "three years, unless sooner discharged;" but, through some difficulty, Co. D were not mustered in, and were disbanded. Subsequently, a company raised in Salem by Capt. SETH S. BUXTON, was placed in the position formerly occupied by Co. D, taking also the same initial letter. This last company (the Essex Cadets) was officered as follows:

Capt. SETH S. BUXTON; Lieuts. James Pope and Frank W. Taggard.

On the 7th day of August, after a stay of six weeks and three days, the regiment left Fort Warren in the darkness and rain, arriving in Boston near midnight, from whence it immediately embarked, by the Providence route, for the seat of war, its destination at the outset being Harper's Ferry; while on the journey, Col. Greene received orders to report in Washington. The rigid adherence to orders and the efficient character as a thorough disciplinarian, on the part of Col. Greene, whose military education at West Point, aided by arduous services in Florida and a close observation of the discipline enforced in the armies of France, where he had for several years been a resident, was well exemplified in this midnight march from Boston, as well as in subsequent movements of the regiment. To this promptness on his part is undoubtedly to be attributed in a great measure the enviable distinction to which the regiment so speedily attained.

On the Sabbath following the arrival of the regiment in Washington, orders reached Col. Greene at a very late hour in the day to move his regiment to Meridian Heights. Immediately the regiment was put in motion, and amid a storm seldom equalled in severity, and rendered memorable by the vivid lamp-light sketches of an artist who delineated for "Harper's Weekly" the dripping warriors as they literally waded up Pennsylvania Avenue, and were escorted to their new quarters by Col. Greene, himself on foot. Arriving at their destination late at night, the regiment bivouaced upon the wet ground, shelterless and supperless.

On Sunday, the 18th of August, a reliable regiment being required to garrison Fort Albany, considered on all hands the "key to Washington"—the city being then menaced by a powerful army—the Fourteenth was selected for the honorable and responsible position. We leave to more disinterested historians the task of narrating the real or fancied dangers of the position, then close upon the enemy, while we console ourselves with the reflection that the "stars and stripes" still wave over Fort Albany as well as all the works then occupied by the enemy in that vicinity. This, and the fact that the Fourteenth has been frequently most explicitly complimented by Gens. McClellan and McDowell, is enough for us. We trust—and it is no egotism in a member of the Fourteenth to believe—that these compliments were merited. The care of artillery necessarily changed the character of the regiment from infantry to artillery, and on the 1st of January, 1862, it was formally transformed from INFANTRY to HEAVY ARTILLERY, and is now doing garrison and guard duty at Forts Albany, Runyon, Richardson, Scott, Barnard, Craig, Tillinghast and Long Bridge.

The transfer from infantry to artillery, involved the necessity of an increase in the number of men in each company and the number of companies in the regiment—a full regiment of artillery comprising 12 companies of 150 men each. The duty of recruiting the regiment to the requisite standard was assigned to Major LEVI P. WRIGHT, aided by four Sergeants. Through the exertions of Major W. two companies, then partially filled—one under the command of Capt. CHANDLER and the other under Capt. ANDREWS were transferred to the 14th, recruited to the requisite standard, and arrived in Washington in March. The success of Major W. in filling up the regiment was quite promising, numbers applying for admission daily, when, by order of Congress, all recruiting was suspended upon the ground that there were already men enough in the field to put a speedy end to the rebellion.

The new companies referred to are designated by the initial letters L and M.

When leaving Fort Warren, the companies were officered as follows :

Co. A—Capt. Nathaniel Shatswell; Lieuts. Milton B. Shattuck and Leigh Worcester.

Co. B—Capt. Leverett Bradley; Lieuts. Jeremy B. Wardwell and Christopher S. Heath.

Co. C—Capt. Alonzo G. Draper; Lieuts. Archelaus C. Wyman, Jared Sparks.

Co. D—Capt. Seth S. Buxton; Lieuts. James Pope and Frank W. Taggard.

Co. E—Capt. Joseph W. Sargent; Lieuts. Wm. F. Martins, Benj. C. Atkinson.

Co. F—Capt. Samuel Langmaid; Lieuts. Joseph W. Kimball, R. P. Cushman.

Co. G—Capt. Benj. Day; Lieuts. Chas P. Noyce and Benjamin F. Martin.

Co. H—Capt. Horace Holt; Lieuts. Charles F. Poor and Moses W. Clement.

Co. I—Capt. —; Lieuts. Charles H. Adams and Wm. J. Roome.

Co. K—Capt. Frank A. Rolfe; Lieuts. Wm. Preston and Albert A. Davis.

The resignations of Commissioned Officers have been as follows :

Lieut. Colonel Samuel C. Oliver, Adjutant Charles F. Simmons, Capt. Samuel Langmaid, Capt. Arthur A. Putnam, Lieut. Charles H. Adams, Jr., Lieut. Archelaus C. Wyman, Lieut. Leigh Worcester and Lieut. Joseph Sparks.

The regiment has been unusually healthy, the number of discharges and deaths since the first of July, 1861, being as follows :
